

John Flynn Prevocational Doctor Program

FEDERATION FUNDING AGREEMENT – HEALTH

Parties	Commonwealth New South Wales Victoria Queensland Western Australia South Australia Tasmania Northern Territory
Duration	This Schedule is expected to expire on 31 January 2026
Purpose	Funding is provided for the implementation of the John Flynn Prevocational Doctor Program (JFPDP) to deliver increased rural primary care rotations for hospital-based eligible prevocational junior doctors in Postgraduate (PGY) years 1-5 in Modified Monash Model 2019 (MM) 2-7 locations (refer Health Workforce Locator for MM of locations). The objectives of the JFPDP are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • expanding the number and rural distribution of rotations delivered under the Rural Junior Doctor Training Innovation Fund (RJDTIF) and RJDTIF Rural Generalist; • strengthen rural training pathways to rural training networks funded by the State and Northern Territory Governments within their region and address community needs; • developing rural training capacity by fostering innovative ways, to provide rurally-based prevocational doctors with a positive experience during their training period in rural primary care settings; and • supporting the National Rural Generalist Pathway. The intended outcomes of the JFPDP are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • increased recruitment and retention of medical graduates and prevocational doctors in rural medical practice; • greater uptake of rural generalist vocational training; • increased rural medical training capacity, including rural general practices operating as vertically integrated teaching units for medical students, prevocational doctors, and GP registrars; • strengthening the rural training pathway for general practice and rural generalism in expanded settings, in particular MM3-7; and • enhanced rural training networks to increase the supply of doctors in training to address current workforce shortages and meet the changing health needs of Australians. Priority areas for grant funding include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Establishing linkages with regional training and workforce organisations and with local primary care health services (particularly Aboriginal Medical services and /or Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Services) to address medical workforce supply and geographic distribution needs in your region;

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Supporting the training of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander prevocational doctors; • Delivering rotations in high priority and community need areas, with particular emphasis on areas that support an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander workforce and service delivery, and northern Australia; • Supporting 'grow your own' approaches for regional training networks to support local workforce development and community need; • Establishing linkages with rural clinical schools and the Royal Australian College of General Practitioners (RACGP) and the Australian College of Rural and Remote Medicine (ACRRM) to encourage greater uptake of rural generalist vocational training.

Additional terms	Jurisdictions will be required to deliver the JFPDP consistent with the objectives, outcomes and priority areas described above under 'Purpose'. States and the Northern Territory are responsible for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Acting as a lead agency of a consortium including with existing RJDTIF organisations and Coordination Units. • Providing all participating junior doctors with assistance and support related to the training. • Engaging supervisors of JFPDP prevocational doctors, who will be responsible for providing a safe and positive environment within the training facility that promotes and supports the safety of the prevocational doctor, patients, practice staff and other clinicians and the delivery of competent medical care. • Engaging with the community and consider community needs in determining JFPDP rotations. • Ensuring the primary care rotation is accredited for training consistent with the Australian Medical Council's National Framework for Prevocational Medical Training.

JFPDP Review 2024

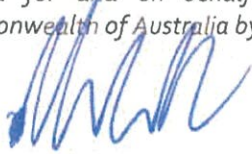

The Department of Health and Aged Care will undertake a review of the JFPDP in the second half of 2024 to ensure the program is delivering intended outcomes and where needed to refine the program. The mid-term review will focus on continuous improvement to strengthen program implementation. Jurisdictions will be required to provide:

- Data in accordance with the agreement for the National Rural Generalist Pathway Minimum Data Set (conditional on finalisation and agreement of Data Sharing Agreement).
- Summary of results of surveys conducted to capture participant experiences.
- Other data/information as determined by the department to inform the review.
